reetings,
G Well, we lived through Thanksgiving, and we keep forging forward to welcome December and the wonderment of Christmas! As we count down the days to the twenty-fifth day of December, we'd like to remind you all to breathe, and take it all in! Collectively, we're all closer to another year, a fresh slate...new beginnings. As we engage in this last month, or better yet, the end of 2011, let's all take a moment to recall what's most important and absorb every second of this magical time that comes only once a year. All of us at Weeks Berry Nursery wish you and your loved ones a peaceful holiday.

Reminder: We still have grapes and blueberries available. We're not sold out yet!

Card made with pine cones!
